Exhibitions

The first exhibition held by the Society was given November 3, 1828, in the hall of the American Philosophical Society, Sixth Street below Chestnut, and these displays were held regularly while the Society continued with this as a meeting place.

The Council was constituted a Committee to Offer Premiums for Competition on December 7, 1829, and on January 4, 1830, reported to the Society with premiums of $42 for vegetables and $81 for fruits.

The annual exhibitions, which were held often under novel circumstances, attracted wide attention, not only by the beauty of the displays, but because of the many new varieties of fruits and vegetables which they supplied to the markets.

A glance through the annals of the Society reveals, for instance, that the Poinsettia was exhibited for the first time at the Society Exhibition in June, 1829; that the first Dahlias were shown before the members in 1832, and that the seed of the Sugar Beet was introduced into the United States by the organization and distributed to its members in 1836.

In June, 1841, in answer to a petition submitted to city councils by the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, the south side of Walnut street at Washington Square was portioned off for a Flower Market.

In 1855 when the twenty-seventh annual autumnal exhibition was in course of arrangement, it was decided to show the exhibits under a tent on Penn Square, on the site of the present Municipal Building. The exhibition of 1856 was held at the same place.

With the completion of Horticultural Hall, in 1867 the opening was celebrated by an exhibition held on June 6. The displays continued to be given in this building until the hall was destroyed by fire January 31, 1881. The structure was rebuilt and again used by the Society for its flower shows until the second destruction by fire, May 27, 1893.

The new Horticultural Hall, Broad Street below Locust, opened in 1896 with the November Exhibition, and all subsequent displays were given there until June, 1917, when the property was sold.

The November exhibition, 1917, was held in the First Regiment Armory, Broad Street at Callowhill. No exhibition was held in 1918 on account of the World War.

In 1919 a small annual exhibition was held in Masonic Hall, Ardmore, Pa.

The 1920 annual exhibition was held in the First Regiment Armory.

Annual exhibitions of 1921 and 1922 were held at the Academy of Music.

In 1923 the principal exhibition was the Dahlia Show, held at the Cavalry Armory, Thirty-second Street and Lancaster Avenue.

In 1924 and 1925, through the courtesy of the Trustees of The Pennsylvania Museum and the Commissioners of Fairmount Park, the exhibitions were held in Memorial Hall, Fairmount Park, and were free to the public.

To the Members of The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society

It is again my pleasant duty to review the events of the past year in which this Society has participated.

Co-operating with the Florists Club of Philadelphia, an interesting and attractive exhibition was held in the Commercial Museum on March 17 to 20, 1925. This exhibition was the largest Flower Show that has been held in Philadelphia since the International Exhibition at Broad Street and Allegheny Avenue in 1916. Admission was by tickets distributed by this Society and the florists, and the attendance was over 83,000. An even better and larger show will be held this year in March in the same place, and a small admission fee will be charged. The Executive Council feels that in these large and popular shows the Society is carrying on its principal aim, which is to create and increase an interest in plants and the love of flowers in the hearts and lives of young and old, rich and poor. Cut flowers in the home add much to its attractiveness, and we endeavor to show the people what to put them in and how to arrange them. We also wish them to know that there are a number of plants that can be grown successfully in the home if they receive proper care. Of course, our commercial members benefit considerably from these shows, because the public is shown how to express sympathy, congratulations, etc., with a gift of beautiful flowers. In other words, the people are shown how to "Say it with flowers."

The Rose and Peony Show in Memorial Hall in June was well staged, but the attendance was comparatively small (10,385) on account of the extreme heat. In this show we had the co-operation of the American Peony Society and the four Garden Clubs of Philadelphia and vicinity. The Society gave the use of its rooms to the American Peony Society for its Annual Meeting, and entertained the members with a luncheon at the Merion Cricket Club and a motor ride through Fairmount Park to Valley Forge. Cars for this purpose were very kindly furnished by the following members: Mr. and Mrs. J. Heron Crossman, Jr., Mrs. William B. Franklin, Miss Mary K. Gibson, Mrs. Melvin H. Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Alba B. Johnson, Mr. William J. Serrill and Mrs. A. T. Slade. Mr. Alba B. Johnson and Mrs. Morris L. Clothier invited the members to visit their places on the way to Valley Forge, and the afternoon was greatly enjoyed in spite of the intense heat. There were members of the American Peony Society here from nearly all the states from Maine to Minnesota and Missouri, inclusive.

The Dahlia Exhibition in Memorial Hall, September 25, 26 and 27, was very successful, having 694 entries and an attendance of 20,461.

The show of Hardy Chrysanthemums, held in the Society's Rooms, September 28 and 29, was visited by about 150 people in two days. This show was interesting, but the date was too early for a full display of Hardy Chrysanthemums.

This Society presented its Gold Medal to the Massachusetts Society, to be offered as a prize at any exhibition in 1925, but as the schedule for that year had already been printed the medal is to be awarded in 1926. The Massachusetts Horticultural Society presented to this Society its Gold Medal to be awarded at our spring exhibition in 1926. The Horticultural Society of New York presented this Society with $100 to be offered at one of its shows in 1925, in either cash or plate. This was awarded at the exhibition in September as a Sweepstake Prize to Mr. Samuel Vaclair (John Crawford, gardener), Rosemont, Pa. This Society also presented to the Horticultural Society of New York its Gold Medal, and this was awarded at their autumn show to Mr. Albert C. Burrage, of Boston, for a very beautiful exhibition of Orchids. It is interesting to note that the President of the Massachusetts Society won the medal offered by The Pennsylvania Society at the New York Society's show.

The Schaffer Memorial Cup was awarded to Mrs. Horatio Gates Lloyd as a Sweepstake Prize at the spring show. The Schaffer Memorial Medal was awarded to your President.

Silver Cups were given to the following Societies for prizes at their exhibitions: Collingswood, N. J., and Lansdowne, Rutledge and Roxborough, Pa. The Moorestown Improvement Association won the Challenge Cup for 1925-1926.

Your Executive Council has voted to establish a Rose Medal, which will be awarded each year in memory of Mr. Robert C. Wright. It is now being designed and we hope to be able to make the first presentation at the June show.

The Council Room has been used by many horticultural clubs and societies during the year, a total of 76 meetings, including those of the Garden Club committees, Wild Flower Preservation Society, John Bartram Association and School of Horticulture for Women. It has also been used for exhibitions of Hardy Chrysanthemums and Christmas Wreaths. All horticultural organizations having an officer who is a member of this Society are welcome to its use for meetings, etc.

The Library has been used this year more than ever before. It is now thoroughly up-to-date. In 1924, one hundred and eighteen books were loaned, and in 1925, two hundred and sixty. This is a gratifying increase, but we hope the number will be again doubled as the members more thoroughly appreciate this valuable privilege and realize what a delightful place it is in which to rest and read.

The adoption of "Horticulture" as the organ for the Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania Societies has proven most satisfactory in every way. The magazine has steadily increased in value under the new management and I think that our members thoroughly appreciate it.

The lectures during the past year were very satisfactory. They were well attended and an interesting schedule has been prepared for this year.

The Garden Visits were more popular than ever before, and it is hoped to arrange a schedule this coming spring that will include several attractive gardens that have not been listed before.

Your Society has been represented on the "Committee on Horticultural Quarantine" since its formation in New York in 1922. This Committee met twice during the past year and delegated its Chairman to represent them at the Bulb Conference held in Washington, November 16. It joined with other committees, societies and associations in urging the Secretary of Agriculture to postpone the embargo on Narcissus until it should be clearly demonstrated that real injury had been done by the pests imported on Narcissus bulbs. Secretary Jardine, however, decided that the embargo on Narcissus should stand, but the entry of Chionodoxas, Scillas, Fritillarias, Ixias, Snowdrops, Grape Hyacinths and Winter Aconite will be permitted, under permit, as before.

In 1886, at the height of the Chrysanthemum craze, the Society had its maximum membership, 989. After that the membership greatly decreased, but in the last few years it has shown a steady increase, new members being added every month. The membership at the close of 1925 was 915, and it is hoped that the thousand mark will be reached in the very near future. Eighty-five per cent. of the Society is now composed of the amateur or educational element, but efforts are being constantly made to increase the number of members who are commercially interested in Horticulture. Attention is called to the very small number of Life Members that we have as compared with the New York and Massachusetts Societies, and it is suggested that more annual members should become Life Members. A Life Membership costs only $50.00. It saves the member the trouble of yearly payment of dues and it saves the Society the cost of collecting same. The annual income to the Society is practically the same. We wish to increase the membership because it gives us increased influence, both in State and Nation, and each member ought to secure another member during the coming year without any trouble. Many people have said to me that they could get greater return for money invested in membership in this Society than on any other investment they had.

This Society exists to develop and maintain an interest in the cultivation of plant life and to spread abroad the love of flowers and plants. How best to achieve this purpose is the constant consideration of the members of your Executive Council. We need the co-operation of all who are interested in flowers, whether for pleasure or profit, in order to attain this end. Our field is primarily the State of Pennsylvania, although we welcome all who are interested in flowers no matter where they reside. As the adjoining states of New Jersey and Delaware have no society like ours, we extend a particularly cordial welcome to all flower-lovers in those states.

The Society is to be again congratulated in having the hearty co-operation of the Garden Club of Philadelphia, The Gardeners, The Weeders, The Four Counties Garden Club and The Florists' Club of Philadelphia in its various undertakings.

A financial statement is submitted herewith.

JAMES BOYD,
President.
